

GRADING TERMS

Many KENTWOOD™ hardwood floors are offered in a choice of grades. It is important to understand that the grade of a particular wood floor refers only to the visual character of the wood, not to the quality of the flooring itself. In terms of manufacturing quality, all grades are identical; the only difference is in the visual appearance of the wood. Generally, higher grades feature clearer, more evenly colored pieces, while lower grades feature wood with more visible grain patterns, color variations, knots and other naturally-occurring characteristics. KENTWOOD™ floors are graded by the following terms:

ELITE:

Our top grade. Boards are selected for uniform coloration and subdued grain pattern. Presents a clean, sleek appearance. For a look of quiet, assured elegance and luxury.

MANOR:

A superior grade that introduces elements of color, grain and character to the refined ambience of a top quality floor. Classic hardwood elegance, enlivened with notes of the wood's unique character.

EXECUTIVE:

The personality of the wood is revealed more fully, with variations in color and grain adding notes of contrast. An attractive balance of elegance and interest.

ESTATE:

Richly displays the personality of the species with a range of color and grain patterns on show.

RANCH:

The grain and color variations of the species are clearly evident, making for a floor that has a lively visual contrast and bolder, more pronounced character.

COUNTRY:

Offers maximum color contrast and visual character for a lively and energetic appearance.

STUDIO:

A mix of all grades. May display a wide range of color, tone and contrast with varying degrees of grain patterns and other natural characteristics evident throughout.
