KOVER

Protective Membrane For Hardwood Flooring

Kentwood Kover is an easy and inexpensive way to help protect newly-installed hardwood floors from trade damage and other job site hazards during final stages of construction. Kentwood Kover is a European-made, reusable membrane that is easily laid over any installed floor. The underside has a slip-resistant coating which prevents slipping and holds the membrane in place. The impermeable top layer keeps moisture and spilled liquids at bay and helps prevent scuffing and other surface damage. A printed warning gives notice that there is hardwood flooring underneath.

FEATURES INCLUDE:

- quick & easy to install – simply lay over installed floor and cut to length
- helps prevent scuffs and damage to the floor surface
- impermeable top layer provides protection against spills
- slip-resistant coating on underside helps keep membrane in place
- reusable – just roll up and reinstall in new location
- eco-friendly – contains no harmful substances
